Killing of Jockeys and Horses and Queen Races Increasing Its Unpopularity
—Layers Refuse to Book on Jumping Events-Programme for the Week.

The killing of Jockey Swallwell in the steeplechase at Brighton on Saturday, following closely the fatal injuries sustained a week previous by George Green, who was thrown by Terrible Terry, the $100 horse, has served to increase the growing unpopularity of the jumping game. Such exhibitions as seen recessly at the Beach and at other tracks where the chasers are permitted to risk human life and limb cannot continue without summary action either upon the part of the turf authorities or the officers of the law. When in the presence of 50,000 men and women steepleshase jockeys are either killed outright or are carried off unconscious with broken collarbones and internal injuries, while horses fall, fracturing legs or otherwise this property. wise injuring themselves, it is high time to call a halt. What excuse can the promoters of steeplechasing give for its perpetuation in the face of two murders within ten days with thousands of disgusted spectators looking on? A man who insists that the jumping game as conducted at local tracks is "sport" cannot find many supporters in the rank and file of racegoers. It is an indisputable fact that the racing public has no use for jumping races, not only because they are brutal and inhuman, but also for the rea-son that they afford such a chance for shady business that they are poor betting propo-

Whenever a steeplechase is run it is no un-common thing to see hundreds of spectators, both men and women, turn their backs. They do not care to see the crashing falls which may result in sudden death for both horses and riders, and when finally an acci-horses and riders, and when finally an accident occurs, such as Saturday's fatality, these same persons ory out in denunciation of this foolhardy branch of the turf.

Advocates of steeplechasing say that the sport is too old to be interfered with. They insist that accidents are due to poor courses and obstacles or perhaps weak-kneed horses and hexperienced riders. Yet this excuse cannot hold good at Brighton, for it was not long ago that the stewards of the National long ago that the stewards of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association inspected the course and jumps at the Beach and pronounced them perfectly satisfactory. The champions of the jumping game also insist that from a spectacular standpoint there is nothing that compares with their favorite pastime. Society has always shown an interest in it, and there are numerous gentleman relates who are found of termining fate to men riders who are fond of tempting fate to be pested and lionized after successful per-fermances through the field. But looking at the game from a cold blooded point of view, it is fair to say that nine out of every to see the jumping events eliminated entirely. The hurdle races were abolished last year because the turf authorities said they were too dangerous, but they never produced such killings as those at Brighton Beach.

It is further pointed out by those who believe that the races over the jumps have got to go that a majority of bookmakers doing business in the ring at Brighton have decided to quote no further prices on these events. They give as a reason that the steeplechases have been run in the interests of a clique and that they have not been on the level. They also assert that the racing public has lost all confidence in these affairs and that hundreds of regulars have of late refused to bet a penny on them. Book makers can tell you when the popular fancy is on the wane quicker than anybody. They are in closer touch with the public than the Jockey Club itself. When they turn their class ever, therefore, and pass the steeple-chase events up, it would seem to indicate that the days of this antiquated and bar-barie form of so-called "sport" are numbered. Racing without betting cannot live. The public supports every branch of the turf.

public supports every branch of the turf. The bookmakers pay a big revenue to the tracks, and in return they ask for sport that will keep a firm hold on the public's confidence. It is the bookmaker, therefore, who has begun the real fight against steeple-chasing, and he is aided amply by the fatalities that have served to bring a general frown from the public at large.

"You will find that the steepichase people will appear an attempt to abolish their pet hobby," said a prominent turiman in the paddock on Saturday. "If a bill is introduced at Albany next winter to prohibit jumping races, just as boxing and pigeon shooting have been legally prohibited in this State on the ground of brutality, it will meet with intense opposition. But if the force of pub-lic opinion is great enough to influence the men who rule the turf there may be a cur-talling of the game by means of limiting the number of jumping races to half a dozen big stakes each year. There is no doubt on earth, however, that the crowds visiting the racetracks do not care for steeplechases and would hall their abolition with much satisfaction. People do not care to see men killed before their eyes or horses injured to such an extent that they have to be shot. If the owners of steeplechasers do not wish to lose their favorite pastime let them go off in the country somewhere by themselves and kill off horses and jockeys to their hearts' con-tent. Such things are not for the public to gives promise of some more good sport. The Seashore Handicap, for three-year-olds and upward at a mile and a quarter, will be the chief attraction to-morrow. The Holiday Stakes, for two-year-olds, will be run on Wednesday and the Iroquois Stakes for three year-olds at a mile and a furlong, is down for decision on Thursday. On Saturday the Aintree Steeplechase, the $7,500 Neptune Stakes, for two-year-olds, and the Brighton oaks, for two-year-olds, and the Brighton Oaks, for three-year-old fillies at a mile and a sixteenth, will provide part of a magnetic card. Hamburg Belle will be a sure starter in the Oaks, as she is in splendid condition and has been working fast for the race. Beldame, as stated in yesterday's Sun, will not go to the post, as her owner thinks it would be asking for much of her to give a sinter of the post. be asking too much of her to give eighteen pounds to the Futurity winner of a year ago.

A week from to-day Saratoga opens. Many of the horses that will race there have been shipped and others will go up from the local tracks this week. The first big attraction is the Saratoga Handicap, in which it is possible that Hermis, Waterboy, McChesney, Irish Lad, The Picket and Africander may come together. No matter how many of these star horses go to the barrier, turfmen are inclined to believe that there is at least one horse that has been literally pitchforked into the big race. E. R. Bradley's Bad News is the one that looks dangerous to them. He will carry 108 pounds, which, in view of his easy victory over Hurst Park on Friday with the same weight, the latter carrying 150, at a mile and an eighth in 1:52 2-5, is taken to mean that he will be a factor. Hurst Park does not class with Hermis, Waterboy and the others in their set, but Owner Bradley says that a horse must be a world beater that gives twenty pounds to Bad News and beats him over a distance of ground.

With the Futurity a little more than four weeks off, many star colts and fillies on the eligible list have yet to be shown. But they will all be uncovered, no doubt, before the Saratogs meeting draws to a close. It is common talk that the winner of this race will come from the Duryea, Keene or Paget string. Yet James B. Haggin is said to have a possible winner of the rich prize in Water Mirror, a full brother to Watercolor, who has been going along nicely in his work and will probably make his first start at the Springs. James R. Keene's Sysonsby, con-sidered the best two-year-old seen this year; Sydney Paget's Tradition, a remarkable filly, and H. B. Duryea's Tanya, Bumble Bee and Cricket, who has not yet started, bid fair to be the best in their respective

TO-DAY'S CARD FOR BRIGHTON. Lady Amelia Looks to Have Sea Guil Stakes at Her Mercy.

The Sea Gull Stakes, for three-year-old filles, six furiongs, is the feature at Brighton Beach this afternoon. Hamburg Belle is eligible but has not been included in the entries, as she will be saved for the Oaks next Saturday Beldame is at Saratogs, so that it looks as if Lady Amelia should win, though her most dengarous rivals are Flammula and it looks as if Lady Ameija should win, though her most dangerous rivals are Flammula and Possession. There are some high class two-year-olds named to go in the third race at aix furlengs, the best of them being Glorifier, McChord, St. Bellane and Britisher. In the first race, at a mile and a sixteenth, non-win-aing jookeys to have the mounts, G. Whittier, Kingraine, Dramatist and Toi San may do something. Malden, Good and Plenty and Mystic Shriner have a chance to win the steeplechase, with Lord Badge, Illyris and Keynote figuring well in the handicap at a mile and an eighth. Sydney Paget's Zeala, a full sister to Waterboy, is named for the last race, a five and a half furlong sprint for maiden two-year-old fillies and geldings. Ismailian and Sportsman may be the contenders if Zeala goes. The entries are as follows:

AUTOMOBILISTS' BIG RUN. New York Contingent Leaves This Morning

-- Details of the Trip. At 9 o'clock this morning the New York contingent of those engaged for the big auto-mobile tour of two weeks duration to St. Louis will start from the Park Plana, at Fifty-eighth street and Fifth avenue. A call has been issued by both the Automobile Club of America and the Long island Automobile Club for as many members as can do so to act as an escort to the tourists as far as Peekskill or Poughkeepsie.

In all there were on Saturday fifty-nine enlisted for the big run of 1,853 miles. Of these nineteen are entered to start from New York and the others from Boston, Philadelphia and various cities, but all of the various divisions will converge and meet before getting to the fair city, excepting a central division from Columbus, Ohio, which goes direct. The run has been splendidly organized

The run has been splendidly organized by the tours committee of the American Autemobile Association. A confetti trail will be strewn over every mile of the way; each division from the various cities will be in charge of a committee and will have guides, and arrangements for accommodations have been made all along the route. There is to be no scorching, and it is not a contest, but all who reach St. Louis will receive a certificate to that effect. The cars will carry numbers and the tourists will wear badges; other decoration will be optional.

This is the longest pleasure tour ever attempted in automobiles and a peculiar interest attaches to it from that fact. It will be quite different from the 800 mile endurance contest held last fall, in which manufacturers competed and every car was in the hands of an expert.

Among those in the run will be Charles J. Glidden, the inveterate tourist, who is chairman of the committee of the New England division of the run. Mr. Glidden will make the run as a mere first stage in another globe wandering trip in his automobile, and will have his wife with him. Many of the tourists will carry women in their cars. Another entry of interest is the new 70 horse-power racing car built at Baltimore for Harian W. Whipple, president of the American Automobile Association. It was part of the condition of acceptance that the car must make the trip to St. Louis successfully.

SCHOLES BACK FROM HENLEY. on the Arabie.

L. J. Scholes of Toronto, who won the Diamond Sculls at Henley and lowered the record for the course by six seconds, was an arrival yesterday on the Arabic of the White record for the course by six seconds, was an arrival yesterday on the Arabic of the White Star Line. Scholes brought along the trophy enclosed in a mahogany box, on which are shields giving the names of the former winners, and he had also a gold loving oup, presented to him by English oarsmen. Three of the plates now bear the names of American rowers, as two tell the successes of E. H. Ten Eyck in 1886 and B. H. Howell in 1886 besides that recording the victory of Scholes.

"My victory brought out the kindest greetings from every one and I cannot say too much for the good fellowship and fair sporting spirit of the British oarsmen, "was Scholes's summing up yesterday of the success at Henley. "Personally, after my losing trial in 1902," Personally, after my losing trial in 1902, I had a most wholesome respect for the Henley amateurs, especially F. S. Kelly of Oxford and Australis, who is the most powerful oarsman I have ever seen. But I had the good fortune to defeat Kelly in the semi-final heat and the elation this gave to me was a spur in the final.

"I do not know whether I will ever row again at Henley, or enter in singles in this country. It is all a matter for future consideration, but if I row again, it will be only in doubles, I think. My rowing plans are not fixed at all."

Scholes started for Buffalo yesterday afternoon, and this morning he will set out with friends in an automobile and breakfast at Niagrar-on-the Lake, Canada. There is to be a reception in the afternoon, and he will then proceed to Toronto, where he will be received by a committee of citizens and oarsmen and aftend a banquet in his honor. Scholes won the amateur championship in singles of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen last year at Worcester, but he will not defend the title in this year's regatta, to be held next Thursday and Friday at Creve Cœur Lake, Et. Bunkers Increased in Height and New Ones Constructed—Tenth Hole to Be Tested —Ruling on National Event by the U. S. G. A .- Van Cortlandt Handleaps.

A series of changes at the Baltusrol Golf Club has been completed in expectation of the amateur championship in September, and the aspirants who run down to the course for practice rounds will find it in practically the condition it will be in for the national event. The changes, which have been made after the joint inspection of the links by the United States Golf Association committee and the Baltusrol greens committee, are intended to offset the tendency of the new ball to bound over the ordinary cop bunker and also to prevent a good shot from being punished by a hazard that has outlived its usefulness under the new playing conditions. The course was brought pretty well in accord The course was brought pretty well in accord with the modern methods before the open championship there last year, and the finishing touches completed for the ceming event, it is believed, will make the Baltusroi round one of the most delightful to a sterling golfer to be enjoyed here or abroad. to be enjoyed here or abroad.

to be enjoyed here or abroad.

Going out, aside from several shallow sand traps to punish careless direction, additional height has been added to the cop bunkers on the first, second, and fifth holes, and, while the increase has been only from a foot to eighteen inches on each, the hazards now stand out before the timid player like factory walls. An entirely new bunker now guards the seventh green, which player like factory walls. An entirely new bunker now guards the seventh green, which could formerly be reached by a running up shot, after a good second, but will now have to be approached with a lofted shot.

Coming in, unless the new tenth hole is used, the only change in bunkers is an important one on the fifteenth hole. The triple line of bunkers on the verge of the green, while admirably placed to compel a high approach with the solid ball, has been for the last two seasons regarded as an unjust punish on a full second shot, for it has been almost impossible to gain the 464 yard green in two. To obviate this, the old bunkers have been razed and a new bunker built up nearer to the tee, so that a fine second will now reach the green. Height has been added to the bunkers on the sixteenth and seventeenth holes, and a trap added to punish a pulled drive from the latter tee.

Regarding the new tenth green, which is on an island in the field to the right of the present green, there is some fear that the turfmay not be quite strong enough for the takeoff of the approaches, which must be over the brook, as there has not been time enough to grow as firm a stretch of grass as is needed. The green itself is in fine turf. Play on the new tenth will be decided in August. If used, the tenth hole will be ingthened out from ist to 280 yards, and the tee for the eleventh hole will be moved back. If the present tenth is retained, the round will remain at 6,103 yards; and despite the stiffening up of the bunkers, the par score is still 78. This is the same total as the amateur record, held by Frank O. Reinhart, while George Low holds the professional record at 72. bunker now guards the seventh green, which

At the meeting of the executive committee of the United States Golf Association, on July 8, the conditions of the amateur championship were amended by the following addition:

At a late hour last Saturday night fire destroyed the former house of the Harbor Hill Golf Club, on Brighton Heights, Staten Island. The invasion of the links by builders caused the disbandment of the club last fall and the building had since been unoccupied. It was put up in 1898 to replace the first clubhouse, which burned down in the spring of that year.

A purse of $250 has been subscribed by members of the Hollywood Golf Club for a four bail match on their course on Aug. 15, in which Will Anderson, open and Western champlon, and Maurice J. McCarthy will play Bernard Nicholis and Will Norton. The match will be at thirty-six holes, the winners to receive 5 and the losers 25 per cent. of the purse. It will be the first appearance of Anderson in a match since his return from the West. McCarthy is the Hollywood professional and should be a good partner on his home green with Anderson. There is much interest on the Long Branch coast in the match. Norton is well known there as the professional at the Deal Golf Club and Nicholis holds the Hollywood record at 68, so the match has become good deal of a betting event. Col. Thomas J. O'Donohue of the Hollywood Club has bet $500 with Bernard Baruch that Anderson and McCarthy will win.

LIVELY WEEK IN YACHTING. GAME PIGHT BY NEW YORKS. What the Different Boats Did in the Larch-ment Race Week.

ment Race Week.

During the race week at Larchmont last week six regattas were sailed. In them there were races for eighty-five classes, and there were 262 starters. The week was one of the most interesting in the history of the club, and with the exception of one day, when the sport was marred by light winds and calms, all the races were hosly contested, and in many instances esconds only separated the leading boats. The regatta committee, Charles P. Tower, Hewell C. Perrin and T. S. J. Flint, had lots of hard work, but the races were well managed though the committee has a few protests on hand to settle.

Livingston has now a clear lead for first place in the league, Columbia Oval has gone down to third place and Brooklyn has advanced to second. In the association the first defeat sustained by the leaders has reduced their chances of ultimate success, while the West Indians are now so close up that there is little to choose between their position and that of the leaders. Horse Races to Be Held Again in Pittsburg. PITTSBURG. PA. July 24 .- It was announced by Pittsburg horsemen to-day that racing will be resumed in Pittsburg on a large scale will be resumed in Pittsburg on a large scale in September after an absence of ten years, since the passing of the Homewood racetrack. Pools will be sold and it is expected that some of the best horses in the country will be brought here, as there are several millionaires back of the plans to reopen the racing. The horses will race at Brunot's Island, two miles below the city on the Ohio river.

For years there have been no pools sold in the vicinity of Pittsburg, an old law against gambling or games of chance being enforced, but the races at Monongahela, thirty miles up the river, which were so successful last week, have opened the eyes of the horsemen here and arrangements for the meet in Pittaburg were completed yesterday and announced to-day.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 24 .- In a closely contested match yesterday afternoon the Rumson polo team beat the Freebooters in the Rumson campus. Four fitzen-minute periods were played. The score was: Rumson, 8; Freebooters, 4. McClure and Jones played star games.

Baseball Notes.

The New York Americans have played not a bit stronger ball since Dougherty Joined them than before. He has been as much of value because he gave the team another outfielder when Fults and Reeler were laid off as for any individual prowess. He has hit harder than Anderson, but not much so of late, and Anderson has done the more timely hitting and better all around work. An outside composed of Anderson, Fults and Reeler is a strong as one with Dougherty in it. One of Dougherty's strong points is his speed on the bases, but Anderson is not slow. All of which goes to show that those who labored under the delusion that Dougherty may be a strong so the work with the pennant have another guess.

The New York Nationals will be home to-morrow and they will find the Polo Grounds looking very attractive for their reception. They played strong ball on this Western trip. They lost points in percentage on the trip, but they lost points solely become a team loses more by a defeat than it gains by a victory when high up in the race. Their aboving on the trip was altogether astisfactory and strengthened the belief that they are the strongest team in the National League and that they will win the pennant. McGraw not only has the managerial ability to lead his team in front but the goods with which to do it.

Since their return from the West the New York Americans have had a rarely good chance to move into second place, but falled to come to time. First came the series of four games with the Bostons, in which the locals lost three out of four, then the sleep in which Boston lost six straight. But in the later period the New Yorks also were losing, so a bright opportunity slipped by. More steadiness in fielding would have prevented the recent setback. It was not that there were many errors, but the best per a brace and has the strength to make the brace.

errors that were exceptionally costly. The team is due for a brace and has the strength to make the brace.

The player-manager is very much to the front this season. In the National League three of the four first division teams are steered by player-managers—McGraw, Kelley and Clarke. McGraw is not in the game itself, but is on the line in uniform all the time, and is really a player-manager. Selec is the only bench-manager in the first flight, Coilins, Jones and Griffith, the first three in the American League, are all player managers. Barrow, Mack, Buckenberger and Hanlon, bench-managers, are all in the second division.

CINCINHART, July 24.—A deal was closed last night whereby Herrmann of the Cincinnati Civb purchased Pitcher Check of the St. Paul Club. Check is to report here on Sept. 20. Eight clubs of the major leagues were after Check, who has won 21 of 77 games this season.

It is a big mistake for President Ran Johnson to keep his umpires so long in a city. The umpires ought to be shifted frequently, as is done in the National League.—Boson Hernid. Quite right.

DETROIT, Mich., July 24.—Ed Barrow has restened as manager of the Detroit baseball team. There will be three conflicting dates in Manhattan this week—Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday.

One of the things that handkcaps Manager. Selec of the Chicago Nationals is the lack of a first-class utility outfielder; and that's where the New York Nationals are strong.

So far no triple play has been made this season on either of the local grounds. For that matter, triple plays are searcer than usual all along the big league line.

The Chicago Americans are strong and of evenly distributed strength, but a little more pepper would add attractiveness to their play.

"Spider" Wolfe held the Detroits down to seven hits in his first game with Washington, but lost his game by one rus.

Canyon, Chio, July 24.—The Brooklyn team to-day defeated the Canton amateur team, 5 to 2.

The Team's Good Becard in The West—Ten Victories and Six Defeate—Cincinnati Has an Easy Time With Beston—St. Louis and the Quakers Break Even.

In the East va. West series in the National League, just closed, the Western teams gave their Eastern brethren a hard walloping. This was true as a whole, but does not apply to the New Yorka, who were the only Eastern team to hold their own in the West. They made the excellent record of ten victories and six defeats in the West, which is all the more creditable considering that nearly all of the strength of the National League is in the West, New York being the only first class National League team in the East. The other three are a poor lot. Altogether in the recent sectional campaign the West won 48 games and the East 20. Procklyn won 3 games and lost 12, Boston won 4 and lost 13, Philadelphia won 3 and lost 4, Cincinnati won 14 and lost 6, Chicago won 12 and lost 4, Pittsburg won 8 and lost 4, 8t. Louis won 11 and lost 6. Yesterday's results: New York, 6; Chicage, 4. New York, 6; Chicago, 4.

CHICAGO, July 24.—New York was game to-day, took its medicine and outfought
Chicago in a fierce uphill battle, while Selec's men qutt like rabbits when the tide began to turn against them. Ames was easy for the Cubs and retired after five innings, while Motismity held the locals down with little difficulty. Weimer was kept in too long, and when he was taken out, after the seventh round, the game was lost and the home team completely demoralized. An enormous crowd, 30,000 or more, packed the park, cheered for the home team till the New Yorks drew for the home team till the New Yorks drew shead and then transferred all the applause to Mouraw's men.

Chicago began on Ames early. Slagle's hit, a sacrifice and McCarthy's single netted one at the start. In the third, Slagle hit safely, Casey beat a bunt, McGann failed to cover first on Chance's drive and McCarthy singled. Two runs resulted. Chicago's last run came in the fifth—a pass to Chance, a sacrifice, and a bad throw by Bowerman. New York did nothing until the fifth, when Warner walked and was batted around. With two out in the sixth, Dahlen and Gilbert singled and Bowerman scaked a double, two men tallying. New York went shead in the seventh, a tloket to McCormick, two outs, and hite by McGann, Mertes and Dahlen counting for a pair. The final run of the game in the ninth came on Browne's double and two outs. Warner was ejected for kick-
